

I enjoy my privacy at home and have never found ANY telemarketing call to be to my benefit.

I ask that you DO NOT allow big business (in this case the banks) to be able to harass me in my own home so they can try to make an extra buck.

If I want something from them, I will seek it out. I should at least be able to know that I am not going to get unwanted phone calls. Where is the consumers protection in all this????
